HTH Supplies – Republic of Ireland

To Whom It May Concern,

Arch Chemical Ltd the manufactures of HTH, the world's most popular dry sanitiser, confirm Complete Leisure Supplies are sole distributors of the HTH product range in Southern Ireland

The HTH brand has gained the reputation over the years for being the best calcium hypochlorite available on the market for quality and consistency. Critical to this reputation has been the technical assistance offered by Arch and our distributors personnel. CLS have our commitment because of the following commercial and technical capabilities:-

- Employ dedicated field representatives to focus purely on the pool industry;
- Possess the ability to offer technical and administrative services that deals with end user product and pool water problems, via a dedicated sales office;
- Possess the ability to receive and pass on training to new field personnel;
- Distribute a total package of pool products including water test equipment, auto controllers, ancillary products and offer service on those products using field representatives, supported by a dedicated technical and commercial sales office.

Yours sincerely
